We had a very nice time here the Fourth. Everybody came and brought all the children. There were races of all kinds, a ball game on Wednesday and again on Thursday between the Texline and Folsom teams. The first game was won by Texline by a score of 9 to 6, as well as the second game by a score of 14 to 8. The Pythian Sisters gave a banquet at the hall, followed by a dance. Music was furnished by G. W. Guyer and Mrs. Thompson. A dance was also held at the hotel and another on the North Side by the Spanish people. Everything passed off pleasantly and all went home happy and pleased. The celebration ended with a fine display of fireworks in the evening.

Another Fourth of July Victim.

W. J. Fulton, of Ute Park, had a narrow escape from death Fourth of July evening by the unexpected discharge of an anvil. While a number of citizens of the park were loading and discharging an anvil that evening it exploded without warning, blowing off a small piece of iron which passed through Mr. Fulton's right hand, tearing away the thumb and passing upward, caused a severe flesh wound on his arm above the elbow.

Mr. Fulton was carried to his home and Dr. Walker, of Cimarron, summoned, but on account of not receiving the message quickly, did not reach the scene of the accident until about 4 o'clock the next morning. He immediately amputated the thumb and dressed the wound on the arm, and at present has Mr. Fulton in Cimarron under his care.

Mr. Fulton is a well-known sawmill man of Ute Park, and at the time of the accident was engaged in sawing timber for the Continental Tie and Lumber company.

CIMARRON WON FROM RATON JULY FOURTH

Interesting Ball Game Attracted Large Crowd From This City—Victors Received Enthusiastic Reception.

One of the coming features of the Fourth of July celebration at Raton was the fast game of ball between Raton and Cimarron and won by the latter team by a score of 14 to 2. Game was called at 3:30, with the visitors taking the bat. D. Baldwin acted as umpire and began handing out some bad decisions from the start and continued to do so until the last half of the fourth inning. His decisions reached a climax when Young lined out a home run, bringing in three scores which were not allowed by the umpire, who claimed the hit to be a foul.

After considerable discussion, Baldwin was removed. Dr. Farley taking his place for the rest of the game.

The features were the heavy batting of Brooks, Lochard, Donovan, Curry, Livingston and Young. The pitching of Lochard was a marvelous display of twirling the sphere, and due to his speed and dexterous curves, the Raton boys were unable to cope with the visitors and hardly hit him at all from the beginning of the game to the last. It was just a case of 1, 2, 3 and out from start to finish. The batting record made by Young was great and he lined out three three-baggers and a home run.

Curry was in good form, also making two three-baggers. Brooks and Diamond came to the front with a few stunts with the stick which did not make things look very bright for Raton. While Livingston seemed to be somewhat in the background at the beginning of the game, he won his laurels by coming to the front and making a home run in the first half of the ninth.

Donovan was not so slow, making his little single every time he came to bat.

It would have been no trouble at all to shut Raton out entirely, had it not been for the two bad fumbles made by Curry and Donovan and the fly-muffed by Fisher in right field.

The only feature of any note of the Raton team was the extreme size of bat worn by its players at the beginning, but we have no doubt that a few cold towels, such as was handed them in the fourth inning will somewhat reduce the size of their think tanks. Raton was not so slow after all, as they made two fine double plays and were only weak in their battery and in a few other places. The game ended with a score of 14 to 2 in favor of Cimarron.

A match game of base ball was played at Dawson July Fourth between Dawson and Madrid teams for a purse of $100, and was won by Dawson by a score of 7 to 2. Madrid went up in the air in the first inning when the terrible Pettus fanned the breeze three times and struck out. Madrid did not get a look-in again until the fourth inning. The game was called off in the seventh inning on account of rain.

Score by inning was as follows:

Dawson	0	0	3
Summary—Struck out by McKee	10	2	7
McKee and Ferraro; three base hits, Basfield and Pettus; stolen bases, Crow and McKee; batteries, McKee and Ferraro—Decker, Lopez and Pettus. Umpire, Shea.

Insane Man Taken to Asylum.

Joseph Ward, who for some time past has been employed on Johnson mesa as a farm hand, arrived in Cimarron July 4 in a sadly demented state. The condition of the man was discovered by one of the employees at Lambert's hotel, where he was stopping, and his sister, a Mrs. Bohner, of Baldy, was notified, but she was unable to do anything toward his support and stated that for some time past he had been queer and that she was afraid to have him at her home. It seems that the man was formerly a well-to-do rancher owning a large ranch near Baldy, but through losses in cattle and other investments had become almost penniless, which was given as the cause of his present condition.

Dr. Horatio Walker was called and examined the man thoroughly and reported him insane. As he had no money or friends who were able to look after him he was removed to Raton Tuesday in charge of Deputy Sheriff O'Sullivan and placed in the hands of the authorities there, who will place him in the asylum as soon as the necessary legal steps can be taken.

James Rudolph Garneid, secretary of the Interior, was standing by the side of his father in the Pennsylvania railroad station in Washington on that fateful day in July, 1881, when the assassin's bullet for the second time dealt death to a president of the United States. The secretary was then only 17 years old—just the age when the average mind is most susceptible to impressions. Close friends say that the horror of that hideous tragedy has never fully left Mr. Garneid's mind, and some of them believe that its effects account for the half-sad expression that always lingers in his face, even when he smiles or laughs.

According to reports from India, moving pictures are now being exhibited by agitators as a means of encouraging the revolutionary idea among the natives. These pictures show the Japanese troops defeating the Russians, and the moral is that the Asiatics in India would be able to do likewise against European armies. Thus the picture becomes a moving picture in two senses, and doesn't even require a penny in the slot to make it work.

The American forces in Cuba will join the Spaniards in erecting a monument to Gen. Vera De Rey, who was killed in action at El Caney on July 1, 1898. The general fought stubbornly to maintain a hopeless position, and was killed while trying to extricate the remainder of his command.

A New York magistrate has decided that it is no crime to kiss a girl on the street if she does not object. But it is likely to distract attention from the orderly transaction of business, and, therefore, is in restraint of trade, and subject to injunction.
